

July 12, 2011, Daily News

Tuesday, 12 July 2011

Last Updated Tuesday, 12 July 2011

Vic Govt invests $3m in IBES

Australian Techworld

The institute recently flagged plans to commercialise its internet protocol television (IPTV) service prototype, which could potentially be used to attract international students to study with Australian universities from abroad and solve the falling ...

AboveNet Provides High Bandwidth Connectivity for Soho Data Centre Expansion

Reuters (press release)

AboveNet currently provides IP services as part of Vision IPTV's private CDN (content delivery network), providing clients with secure private managed connections. This service is optimised in particular for high quality global video distribution over ...

Regulatory complexities hinder China's converged media plans

ZDNet Asia

By Liao Yun Qing , ZDNet Asia on July 12, 2011 (3 mins ago) Lack of converged media services such as IPTV in China due to diverse regulations and lack of single regulatory body--barriers which government needs to act on quickly, Ovum says. ...

Research and Markets: the Ukrainian Telecom Market to Generate UAH39.2bn (Us ...

Business Wire (press release)

IPTV in the Ukraine is expected to provide an eye-catching CAGR of 42% between 2011-2016, reaching 104000 subscribers, or 2% of all pay-TV subscribers, according to a new report. Ukraine: Sale of Mobile Operator and Spread of Multiplay Drive a Booming ...

NETGEAR Chooses Quantenna 4x4 MIMO Chips for Video over Wi-Fi

&Irm;Converge Network Digest

The chipsets enable manufacturers to build products for delivering IPTV and other video streaming and data distribution services throughout the home over an ...

Expansion plans for Ernakulam BSNL

&Irm;IBNLive.com

... optic fibre cables would be laid to the premises of new customers which will ensure highquality voice, broadband and IPTV. In the initial phase, ...

Haivision's Makito(TM) Delivers HD Signage IPTV to Screens Throughout the New ...

Broadcast Newsroom

With 4000 set-top-box endpoints, 800 of which drive public-area displays, Galaxy chose to establish its digital signage head-end and distribute dynamic graphics content over its IPTV infrastructure. This approach takes advantage of a single media ...

Quickflix to stream movies to Sony Internet enabled TVs

iTWire

By Stuart Corner Online DVD rental company Quickflix (ASX: QFX) has announced its entry into the IPTV market, signing an agreement with Sony Australia to provide a subscription movies streaming service through Sony's Internet connected TVs and other ...