

July 10, 2012, Daily News

Tuesday, 10 July 2012

Last Updated Tuesday, 10 July 2012

NBCU inks deal with China's Youku: IPTV service nabs VOD rights to pix

Chicago Tribune

BEIJING -- Chinese online TV company Youku has inked a licensing deal with NBCUniversal 's international TV distribution arm for video-on-demand rights for a selection of current, library and new content on Youku Premium, which has more than 300 ...

ATEME: TITAN Powers Combined IPTV/OTT Service for Saudi Telecom

Business Wire (press release)

Transcoding specialist ATEME has won a first Middle East customer for its TITAN platform, in a deployment by content aggregator Intigral for both IPTV.

TransGaming's GameTree(TM) TV Launches Into Hospitality Market With Select-TV

Marketwire (press release)

TORONTO, CANADA and KUALA LUMPUR, MALAYSIA--(Marketwire - July 10, 2012) - TransGaming Inc. (TSX VENTURE:TNG), the global leader in the multiplatform deployment of interactive entertainment, and Malaysia-based IPTV Technology Solution ... TransGaming's GameTree(TM) TV Launches Into Hospitality Market With Select-TV

MarketWatch (press release)

In addition, Telecom of Thailand (TOT), Thailand's largest telecom operator and the 2nd largest telecom operator in Southeast Asia, will adopt the GameTree TV service as delivered via Select TV's EMAGINE for Homes IPTV Platform. "In the highly ...

Will IPTV leave Foxtel boxed in?

Business Spectator

Foxtel's lofty goal to see pay TV in half of Australia's homes is up against high costs, a growing chorus of competitors and tough regulation. Meanwhile the take-up of traditional pay TV has already peaked, thanks to internet streaming.

Gateways obviate the boxed-in feeling for an entertained home

FierceIPTV

Unless the recent unrelenting heat wave, power outages and wildfires sapped your mental resources (and no one could blame you if they did), you've probably noticed that IPTV has almost officially morphed into something more than a way to get 82 ...

AT&T updates U-verse IPTV app for iPad, iPhone

Rapid tv news

AT&T's IPTV division has announced an expanded lineup of functionality and on-demand premium and TV content available through the U-verse app for iPad, iPhone and iPod Touch.