

Aug. 13, 2013, Daily News

Tuesday, 13 August 2013

Last Updated Tuesday, 13 August 2013

América Móvil moves for KPN control IPTV News Carlos Slim-owned telco América Móvil is set to make a €7.2 billion bid for control of Netherlands operator KPN, leaving a questionmark over the latter's planned ...

FutureLink launches to offer 'grow as you go' fibre and copper for ... Rapid tv news A new communications infrastructure brand is on its way in the US: Suttle has introduced FutureLink, an umbrella brand encompassing next-generation fibre and ...

TV Azteca to launch OTT IPTV service in Colombia Rapid tv news The Colombian subsidiary of Grupo Salinas is to launch a pay-TV service of around 40 channels, some of them broadcast by IPTV technology and the rest ... Central America pay TV set for growth IPTV News Pay TV use in Central America is set to reach 4.4 million by 2018, with the biggest players and satellite operators set to take more market share, new research ...

Smart TV users 'twice as likely' to cancel pay TV IPTV News US broadband users with a connected TV are twice as likely to 'cut the cord' from their pay TV subscriptions as their non-connected counterparts, new research ... Arris sets sights on meeting demand for IP-centric CPEs FiercelPTV The integration of IP into traditional cable TV products as well as increased momentum for IP-based home networking consumer premises equipment (CPE) will ...

EchoStar Among Finalists in CSI Awards Satellite Today ... recognizes and rewards technological innovation in the cable, satellite, broadcast, IPTV, telco, Internet/online/OTT video, mobile TV and associated sectors.