

Feb. 17, 2016, Daily News

Wednesday, 17 February 2016

Last Updated Thursday, 18 February 2016

Telstra announces AU$2.1b profit for half year

ZDNet

Revenue for its IPTV business, including the Telstra TV, was AU$34 million, a decrease of 19 percent. IPTV subscribers grew by 17.9 percent, to 224,000.

Spark NZ reports NZ$158m net profit

ZDNet

Like Australian telco Optus' recent win in obtaining the English Premier League rights, Spark purchased 50 percent of IPTV provider Coliseum in December ...

TiVo's Cubiware Continues to Advance Asian Market Expansion ...

FierceCable

Designed to run on low-power, small footprint DTV and IPTV processors from all major silicon vendors, the STB versions of CubiTV may be deployed on both ...

Teracue powers Porsche Motorsport

TVBEurope

Porsche Motorsport is implementing IPTV solutions from Teracue at the FIA World Endurance Championship (WEC). Running such complex racing cars requires ...

Huawei Predicts Big Bang for 4.5G in 2016

Mobile World Live

He noted that China Telecom now has more than five million fibre-to-the-home subscribers and 6.9 million IPTV video subscribers. Huawei believes telecoms ...

Orange to review content strategy, but no plans for origination

DigitalTVEurope.net

Earlier, Richard said that investing in broadcasting rights to football in Spain had been key to the company's success in growing its IPTV base in that country ...

Foxtel is putting up a huge fight in the Netflix world

Business Insider Australia

Their IPTV subscriber number, which includes Foxtel on T-Box, Bigpond movies and Foxtel Presto is also up 17.9%, from 190,000 to 224,000. They don't break ...